Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

John Cooper last week told his audience that Kentucky is not a criminal and therefore did not need a criminal lawyer to represent them in congress.

The West Murray Church of Christ has wood laminated arches over the sanctuary. They are going up row and the beams which will hold the roof decking are going up.

The church puts out a little bulletin each week and we note we were quoted in it. The paragraph about the phony "drug trap" religion of Timothy Leary. Aude McKee the evangelist of the church goes on to say this religion which involves drugs is wrong because the Bible says so. "A practice can be right religiously only if it is authorized in the Word of God", he says.

Drove down around Pine Bluff Shores yesterday and there were folks living all over the place.

We then drove out to Western Materials, east of New Concord, and looked over that operation. They have two or three hundred thousand dollars worth of equipment there and have a hole in the ground that would do justice to the Grand Canyon. Big diesel trucks with a huge capacity, earth movers of one kind or another and mountains of crushed limestone.

Go down and take a look. Turn left at the New Mt. Carmel Baptist Church and keep going. It is well marked.

There are so many things going on, a fellow will lose track of them if he stays in too close or gets wrapped up in one or two things too much.

Lady dog is a plover. Let her out in the yard and she skulks around with her ears down, but show yourself in the window and she becomes a fearless watchdog. She begins barking and running around as though she is challenging whatever might get foot on her home soil.

The squirrels are confusing to her and she does not quite know what to think of them. She thinks they are either dogs that can climb trees or maybe a skinny cat with a big bushy tail.

Fellow on TV yesterday was just about speechless and with good reason. They brought out a space man type of fellow with a gadget on his back and darn if he did not shoot up in the air as high as the football stadium, fly the length of the field and land gently under the goal posts at the far end.

The announcer waited a long time trying to think of something appropriate to say about this feat and finally came up with, "Well, as they used to say back home, I do declare."

We will admit that he had quite a chore to comment on this 1966 phenomenon. All we could think of to say was "Hummammm."

Luther Robertson is on the board of directors of the Kentucky Grocers' Association and is a past president.

He operates one of the largest wholesale food companies in the state in Murray Wholesale Grocery Company.

Carroll Farmer has a collection of grandfather clocks. He can get them going by making whatever part is missing. Some folks can just do things with their hands.

We can always tell when cold weather is coming. When Mrs. Cleve Farmer takes in her two big ferns, it is time to prepare for the winter. She took them in.

Cold Air Lingers Ove Much Of South

by United Press International
Cold Canadian air lingered over most of the Midwest today, reaching as far south as Missouri and Arkansas, but most of the nation was clear and tranquil.

Scattered showers occurred across the southern Plains and the Northwest and a few snow flurries dusted the Great Lakes region.

The severe snow storm which left drifts up to 20 feet in the Rockies and high Plains dissipated today but a chill remained. Readings dropped to 19 degrees at Goodland, Kan., Sunday.

Temperatures in the 30s were reported in Arkansas and Missouri early today. It was a relief from 30 to the date at Fort Smith, Ark., Sunday. Springfield, Mo., also registered an all-time low for the date Sunday with a 28.

Quotes From The News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

ATLANTA — Georgia Democratic Chairman Jack Turner, following reports that gubernatorial candidate Lester Maddox would not vote for Negroes running on the same ticket:

"I guess the people who have said Maddox has Old Testament honesty are mistaken. I took an oath to vote for him and I shall do it, in spite of the fact that it will probably curdle my blood."

LONDON — Rev. Kenneth Greet, chairman of a committee which authored a British Council of Churches sex report which refuses to condemn adultery and says casual sex can be therapeutic:

"We hope it will correct the distorted image that the church consists of sexless saints sitting in judgment on the passionate sins of less-disciplined mortals."

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. — President Johnson, in his last address before leaving on his Southeast Asian tour:

"Our ultimate task is reconciliation at home and abroad, regardless of our color, white, brown, green or black . . . to show that all men are children of God and brothers."

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Esther Peterson, special assistant to President Johnson for consumer affairs, referring to the planned boycott of supermarket chains by housewives pressuring for lower prices:

The Rest of the News

The Almanac

by United Press International

Today is Monday, Oct. 17, the 290th day of 1966 with 75 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter.

The evening star is Saturn.

Hungarian statesman Francis Deak was born on this day in 1863.

On this day in history:

In 1777, British General Burgoyne surrendered his forces to the Americans at Saratoga, N.Y., in one of the great turning points of the Revolutionary War.

In 1933, Albert Einstein arrived in the United States. The scientist, a refugee from Nazi Germany, later became an American citizen.

In 1931, bootlegger and racketeer Al Capone was convicted of income tax evasion by a federal court in Chicago and sentenced to 11 years in prison.

In 1945, after addressing a mass meeting in Buenos Aires, Col. Juan Peron declared a coup. He was dictator in Argentina for 10 years.

A thought for the day — Albert Einstein said: "As long as there are sovereign nations possessing great power, war is inevitable."

Make Poor Land Work, Plant Trees

Farmers and landowners of Calloway County stop for a moment and think about the title of this article. Then let's take a look at your land.

How much idle land do you have? If you have even one acre it's too much, because you are paying taxes on it now, and you will continue to do so as long as you own it. What about those acres on the back side of your farm cut off by the creek, gully or ditch? Think of all those Sumac, Persimmon, Sassafras, briars and other weeds that you are paying taxes on. What about that hillside that you quit row-cropping or pasturing several years ago? Chances are you now have a gulch and eroded hillside full of Elm, Persimmon, Sumac, briars and just plain "trash". Chances are you're paying taxes on this. What about that bottomland that floods every year? Chances are you may have abandoned it because you can't make anything on it and chances are you're paying taxes on it.

How long are you going to pay taxes on this kind of land? Now that we have 100% valuation this kind of land might mean more to you. Why should you have to pay taxes on this kind of land? Why? Because that is the law. Why not have something growing on this land besides Persimmon, Sassafras and Elm bushes.

The Kentucky Division of Forestry can advise you as to what kind of trees can and should be growing on unproductive land. That back portion of your farm might grow Scotch Pine for Christmas trees that can be sold in two to eight years. That hillside might grow Red Oak, White Oak or a variety of Pines. That wet bottom might grow high price Yellow Poplar, Walnut or Sweet Gum.

Contact the Kentucky Division of Forestry, your local A.S.C. Office for assistance in tree planting ideas, and stop paying taxes on that unproductive land.

Wholesale Grocers To Hold Meeting

The Twentieth Annual Convention of the Kentucky Wholesale Grocers' Association, Inc. will be held at the Proteus Hotel, Lexington, Kentucky, starting Wednesday, October 19th, and ending Friday evening, October 21st. According to Dale J. Tinkle, Vice President of The Cretney Company of Kentucky, and President of the Association, and Herbert B. Ledford, Manager of the Jellison Grocery Company, Somerset, Kentucky, and Vice President and Convention Chairman, more than five hundred (500) Wholesale Grocers and Associate members are expected to be in attendance.

Starting Wednesday there will be a Past Presidents' Dinner with Gus C. Covington, Mayfield, Kentucky, presiding. The official opening of the Hospitality Display Room will be by a talk by Mr. Charles W. O'Connell, "Miss Kentucky", who will be the official hostess during the Convention.

Thursday highlights will consist of a breakfast with Mayor Fred E. Fagan's welcoming address followed by a talk by Mr. Charles Buckner, Sales Manager of The Bama Company, Birmingham, Alabama. A Golf Tournament is scheduled later at the Spring Valley Country Club for the men and a Shopping Tour for the ladies.

The featured speakers at the Opening Convention Session Friday morning will be Mr. Harold O. Smith, Jr., Executive Vice President of the United States Wholesale Grocers' Association, New York, New York, and Mr. James M. McKay, President of Ballinger-Messers Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Governor Edward T. Breathitt will speak on the subject "Constitution Revision Proposal" at the Friday Luncheon. He will be introduced by Dr. Robert R. Martin, President of Eastern State University.

The final of the Convention will be a "Harvest Moon" Banquet followed by a "Monte Carlo Party".

Alabama Now Has A Down Hill Drag; Victorious Over Vols

By DAVID M. MOFFITT
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — It appears that third-ranked Alabama now has a downhill trail to its third perfect season in six years but the Crimson Tide needs for top-ranked Michigan State and second-ranked Notre Dame to stumble if it is to capture the national crown.

The problem, simply, is that Alabama schedule. Five of the Tide's six remaining foes currently have losing records and Alabama seeks that coveted No. 1 ranking.

However, Bama isn't giving up hope. Michigan State still has to play Notre Dame and fifth-ranked Purdue and the first have 10th-ranked Oklahoma, the Spartans and fifth-ranked Southern California still ahead.

Alabama almost fell by the wayside Saturday. The Tide beat 13th-ranked Tennessee 11-10 but was out of the lead in the fourth quarter to grab the lead and almost saw that vanish in the closing 12 seconds.

Game Was Classic

The Alabama-Tennessee game is the sort of classic that will be remembered for years to come. The Vols grabbed a 10-9 lead in the first period and was still holding it going into the fourth.

The Tide, slowed by rain, took advantage of a Tennessee fumble to move to a touchdown early in the fourth period and the Alabama drive on a two-point pass to cut the margin to 10-8. Then, with only 3 1/2 minutes remaining, Steve Davis' field goal put Alabama ahead 11-10.

But Tennessee wasn't through. The Vols marched 72 yards, mainly on Davey Warren's passing, in the closing minutes and got to the Alabama 2. But a sharply angled four down field goal try from the 10 missed and the Alabama drive to a third straight Southeastern Conference championship continued.

Florida, co-favored for the SEC title since the Gators don't play Alabama, won its 49th straight of the season Saturday, 17-10 over North Carolina State, with some fourth period heroics by the fabulous Steve Spurrier. Georgia, the conference dark horse, fell from the unbeaten ranks in a 7-6 Friday night loss to independent Miami.

LSU 30-0 Deat

Louisiana State made its conference debut after four non-league games in a 30-0 rout of Kentucky, seventh-ranked Georgia Tech best Auburn 17-3. Ole Miss needed two fourth-period touchdowns by Doug Cunningham to beat Southern Mississippi 14-7. Virginia Tech best Vanderbilt 21-6 and unbeaten Houston routed Mississippi State 38-0.

Florida State outslugged Texas Tech 42-33 with Jim Mankins scoring the Seminoles' first four touchdowns. Tulane made its first independent record 4-1 by besting Cincinnati 28-21 and Memphis State beat the Quantico Marines 20-14.

This coming weekend, Alabama plays Vanderbilt at Birmingham, Auburn is host to Texas Christian, Florida will be at Louisiana State, Kentucky at Georgia, Ole Miss vs. Houston at Memphis, Mississippi State at Florida State, Tennessee is host to South Carolina, Tulane at Georgia Tech, Memphis State host to Tulsa and Miami host to Indiana on Friday night.

Spurrier, who broke numerous SEC records last year, is up to his old tricks. He hit on 19 of 32 passes for 186 yards—including a 31-yard touchdown pass that won the game. The Gator winner has completed 75 of 112 passes for 900 yards and 11 touchdowns in the first half of the season.

of Saturday's game, but broke in the second half to allow a 44-2 victory for the Indians, who held the rank of number nine among the small colleges of the nation.

The second half has plagued Murray State for the entire season, holding pretty well for the first two quarters but breaking after the half time.

The loss Saturday gives the Reddies a 0 and 5 mark for the year.

Using good punt the Murray defense held the Indians scores for the first quarter. Murray could not move the ball either in the defensive dust.

Mike Everett broke the scoring tie for the Indians with a 32 yard field goal early in the second quarter. Arkansas' first touchdown came in the second quarter also with Tom Owen going over from the one yard line, giving the visitors a 10-0 lead at the half.

The Murray offense was stopped almost completely and the Indians continued to blank the Reddies in the second half with 13 points in the third period and 21 additional in the final stanza.

Grandpa's Romance — Nothing Serious

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of a 71-year-old man who has a wife, six living children (all married), and 21 grandchildren, who seems to be enamored of a 21-year-old student nurse? He has recently hospitalized and that's where he met her.

He writes her letters and even includes some little love poems which he copies out of a book. He sets plenty of attention from his family who all love him very much. What do you think should be done?

CONCERNED WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Don't worry. It's all in grandpa's head. When the HIM love poems, you'll have something to be concerned about.

DEAR ABBY: What exactly is an alcoholic? My wife says she is not an alcoholic because she never drinks until after four in the afternoon. She says all alcoholics start drinking in the morning and they drink all day. My wife drinks every day, starting at four o'clock. If we go out she will take a couple of drinks before we go.

If our friends serve only a couple of drinks before dinner, she will tell for "drunken" as she claims it takes more than just a few drinks to "relax" her. Please advise what time of day an alcoholic starts to drink so I will know if my wife is an alcoholic or not.

UNINFORMED
DEAR UNINFORMED: The time of day one begins drinking does not determine whether or not he is an alcoholic. An alcoholic (technically) is one who cannot control his drinking once he starts.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think me ungrateful, but my problem is a husband who buys me too expensive gifts. We are on a limited budget, and I am the one who has to cut the corners and balance it when we are short.

I know my husband wants to please me, but every time I open one of his gifts, my heart sinks. I love the guy for what he is, not for what he gives me. How can I get that thru his head?

On special occasions, I give him something reasonable like a dollar tie and a cute card, but he doesn't take the hint. Any suggestions?

PRACTICAL
DEAR PRACTICAL: Before the next occasion, head him off and TELL him that you appreciate his generosity, but you can't afford it. Set a limit for gifts and announce that if he exceeds the limit, the gift goes back. It may sting for a
